

HISTORY of the Sutton Free Library ROLL TOP DERBY DESK

DONATED IN 1897

to the Free Library of Sutton by

"Dr. S.N. and Louisa Welch."

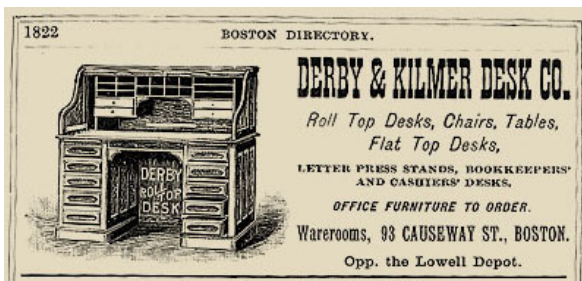

Stationed originally at the Library Room in

Pillsbury Memorial Town Hall

(the room now the town clerk's office) until the current

Sutton Free Library building was constructed in 1940.

In its new home, this Derby Desk served librarians well in the upstairs office, now the photo room. When the photographic history grant from the National Endowment for the Arts was secured, the roll top desk was moved to the Trustees' Room downstairs. In the renovation this fall (2015), the desk was moved and now sits prominently in the main library for perusal by all until the Silent Auction closes August 22. Also on display are some fabulous inkwells, writing implements and other artifacts found in the desk!
